

Biz Briefs

Published: Friday, September 03, 2004

Incubator inks tenants

The San Jose Bioscience Incubator has signed its first two tenants. Startup Cytolution Inc. moved to the incubator from northern Virginia and is developing a cervical cancer diagnostic device. Manoa Medical Inc. moved from Redwood City and is developing new technology for breast cancer surgery. The incubator was funded with $6.5 million from the San Jose Redevelopment Agency.